Was there ever a more disagreeable day—weather speaking—than last Sunday? The rain fell at intervals, and the air had a chill in it which went to the marrow-bones.

Dr. Barnhouse desires me to inform the public that he has, at the South Side Drug Store, a fine assortment of Valentines, suited to every call. Also, Stationery the best and finest.

Mord Roberts, thirty years ago an engineer on one of the pushers at Arcadia, is now engaged in the sand business at Little Rock, Arkansas, and is a prosperous man. Many old-timers in the Valley will remember him.

Last week Ed. Yates, Ab. Yates and Mont Cawley, of Pilot Knob, were arrested charged with cutting timber—the first named from the Murdock-Crumbs land and the others from the Big Muddy's possessions. Bond was given for their appearance before the coming session of the circuit court.

The report from Portageville tells us of a great meeting from Burke and Hobbs. There have been 408 professions to date—in three weeks. The meeting cannot close in time for the evangelists to reach Ironton for next Sunday. The meeting in Ironton will be delayed for a few days. Due notice will be given.

The Lopez Store Company recently shipped a barrel of walnuts to a lady living in Concord, New Hampshire. She wrote she had read in the IRON COUNTY REGISTER that there had been a bountiful yield of walnuts in Iron County the past season, hence the order. And yet there are people so obtuse as to say "it does not pay to advertise."

Examinations for Fourth-Class Post-Offices for the State of Missouri will be held at various places throughout the State during the month of March. The date for Ironton is March 4, 1914. Applicant must live in the delivery of office. You may take the examination at any of the places designated, but may take it at only one place and date. For information inquire at the post-office.

I understand that the city authorities have determined to reconstruct Main street—a thing to be desired. It will cost the property owners on that thoroughfare a few shakels, but 'twill be money well invested. For a long time the street has been no source of pride to our little city, and it does not "postpone" to the granite walk which line it on either side. Let us all uphold the hands of our officials in their effort for its betterment.

W. H. Webb, writing in the Ironton REGISTER, says he went to Pinkneyville, Ill., and identified the man killed there as Sam Hilderbrand, and that the body was brought to St. Francois county and interred. This, of course, is direct evidence that the man killed there was the noted outlaw. But there has been a rumor ever since that it was not Sam, and this rumor seemed to stand up very well.—Puzzo Index. Yes, it sometimes takes the truth a long time to knock out "rumor." In this case, however, I consider that Mr. Webb has set all reasonable doubt at rest.

She was born in Troy, Lincoln county, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wright, and was christened Anna. After life's fitful fever, she sleeps the sleep of the just, her memory hallowed by the love of all who knew her.

The Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain has placed an order with the Baldwin Locomotive Works of Philadelphia for twenty-five huge locomotives. They will be of the Mikado type and will be used in freight service. In every detail these engines will represent the latest effort in locomotive construction. The light weight of the engine and tender will be 311,900 pounds, and when in working condition and ready for service the total weight will run close to 400,000 pounds. The weight on the drivers will be 209,000 pounds and the locomotives will have a tractive force of 50,160 pounds. The specifications call for cylinders 27 inches by 30 inches, and the boiler pressure requirement is 170 pounds to the square inch. The total length of the engines will be 78 feet 4 1/2 inches, and they will measure 15 feet 5 1/2 inches from the rail to the top of the smoke stack. They will be equipped with Schmidt superheaters, a recent invention for increasing the power of steam, and will also have electric headlights and electric cab lights. The railroad expects to receive the first of the engines by the 15th of February.

Last Wednesday the sheriff of Butler County brought a negro prisoner here and consigned him to the care of Sheriff Blue for safekeeping. The negro called himself Sam Green but the authorities said his real name is Otis Shaffer. He had been arrested in the city of Poplar Bluff Monday night, charged with having assaulted and outraged a white woman on the evening of that day. The lady, about fifty-six years old, was in her home alone when a negro came in, looked the door behind him, drew a revolver and threatened her with instant death if she made an outcry. He then accomplished his awful deed. As he was leaving the premises the victim's sons, who had been out hunting, were approaching at a little distance. Hearing their mother's cries and seeing the negro running, they fired at him, but the guns being loaded with bird-shot, he escaped without hurt. The officials were notified and a thorough search for the criminal was begun. During the night Shaffer—or "Green"—was taken into custody, and placed in jail. Next morning the woman positively identified him, out of a number of negro prisoners. Threats of lynching caused the authorities to remove him to the Iron County jail. He was taken back to Poplar Bluff Monday to appear for trial this week before the circuit court now in session. He denies being guilty.

I last week gave an account of the deplorable accident which resulted in the death of one of Wayne county's most prominent citizens. I take the following from the Piedmont Banner: "Mr. Haynie's death shocked the entire county. He was one of the leading business men and prominent citizens of this section, a warm-hearted friend, a loyal citizen, and a man whom prosperity did not alter in his relations to other men. Mr. Haynie had sold his farm at Williamsville and it is reported that all the papers were duly signed before his death. His wealth is estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000. The funeral was preached at Williamsville Wednesday morning by Rev. A. E. Sifton, under whose preaching Mr. Haynie became a Christian convert. A large concourse of people were present and the last rites were marked by the heart-rending grief of surviving relatives and all the people assembled. A large number of Piedmont people were at the funeral. The funeral was preached at the Baptist church and the body was interred in the cemetery at Williamsville. The grave was heaped high with floral offerings. Mrs. Haynie survives and also one son, now a young man. Mrs. Mary S. Holladay and Mrs. Monroe Johnson of St. were sisters of Mr. Haynie, and he has a brother, Acey Haynie, who lives in Carleton, Ala. He was born and reared near Williamsville. He was nearly 44 years old. The attendance at the funeral was estimated to be one thousand."

The A. F. & A. M. people had a mighty fine time at the Academy of Music last Thursday evening, with their wives, daughters and friends. An elegant dinner was provided and about eighty partook of the good things which loaded the tables. A little dancing, some music and a good deal of conversation diversified the passing hours until 8 and 12. The event of the evening, however, was the presentation of a Masonic Charm set with diamonds to Hon. Wm. R. Edgar. With a few well chosen and appropriate sentences, Mr. Mann Ringo, on behalf of the brethren, tendered him this mark of esteem and acknowledgement of the untiring zeal which has for more than thirty years characterized the recipient's Masonic life. And never was token of regard better deserved. For once Mr. Edgar's ready speech deserted him, for this was a real "surprise," and the feeling that burdened his reply gave no fluency of expression. May he wear the gift for years and years, and then some, is the earnest prayer of every Mason who has responded to "the sound of the gravel in the East" as wielded by him. of the building and grounds, where our children live five days of the week. Ask himself what is the cause of the unsightly and unsanitary conditions.

What is the remedy? A larger public spirit, which will see the need and fill the treasury. We have a Board of Education which will gladly do the rest.

Then we will pay our respects to the town and in a "clean up" campaign rid it of the rubbish, which some residents may overlook.

School Notes.

Pupils are enrolling for the review courses this week. Only a few have entered so far. Each pupil will receive the more personal attention. It isn't too late to enroll.

Teachers Training pupils are taking their examinations this week. Eleven pupils are taking the examinations. Those that complete the work this year receive a certificate to teach anywhere in Missouri for two years and at the completion of that time an attendance of one term at the Normal University or other standard college will be granted a first grade certificate which is good anywhere in the state and renewable an unlimited number of times.

The teachers meeting at Ironton last Saturday was a helpful and enjoyable affair. The work given by the various speakers showed careful preparation and clear pedagogical thought. Iron County teachers are studying the educational questions carefully and a marked improvement is shown in school work and theory.

The demonstration classes conducted by Miss Hotson and Miss Prince were especially helpful on reading and dramatization. Excellent papers were read by Misses Nanny Ringo, Elsie Lueddecke, Shane and Tolleson, Messrs. Marshall, Hanson and Loomis.

Honorable mention is due the two high school boys who had the misfortune to throw a ball the other day in such a manner as to break a glass out of the school building doors. An accident. The glass has been replaced good as new by the boys.

The sample of milk tested this week gave 3.8 per cent butter fat.

The Mothers and Patrons Club met Friday afternoon and adopted their constitution and by-laws. The object of the organization as set forth in the preamble should enlist the cooperation and membership of all in the district. January 21.

Through the kindness of Mr. Madlinger the fourth grade geography class enjoyed a very instructive trip to his bakery. Few of the children had ever seen an oven or bread made on such a large scale, so there was much to learn and see. Mr. Madlinger kindly explained all the processes in bread making, as well as, gave cost and source of materials, time required, etc. The oven is ten by twelve feet on the floor and 14 inches in height, and will hold about 350 loaves at one time. The heat of one fire in the oven is sufficient for two batches of 350 loaves each or 700 loaves, about the maximum sale of bread in a day. The trip to the bakery completes a series of trips the class has made in studying wheat.

About fifteen dollars' worth of books have been received this week for the libraries of the high school and the seventh and eighth grades. One fourth of this amount was contributed by the seventh and eighth grade pupils in order to get the books they need for supplementary and reference work.

The high school agriculture class is studying the horse this week. They bore tested samples of seed from various sources for purity and vitality. A test for purity on a sample of clover seed showed it to contain 82 1/2 per cent clover and 17 per cent seed.

This note reminds us that someone failed to get my meaning in a note of three weeks past, when we were trying to show that some cows give milk that is more than twice as rich in butter fat as that given by other cows. The standard for the milk we had in mind was that used by the dairies of the state and not the legal standard. The dairies buy milk on the basis of a 4 per cent as standard. We hope the gentleman will not get so excited the next time; he can't see just what we have in mind; it has a bad effect on his grammar. It also might keep some people from seeing the point we are trying to make, viz: Ironton high school wants to help all the people in the community in every way it can.

Mrs. Moser Answers Call.

Fremont (Neb.) Tribune, Jan. 22.

Mrs. Isabel Moser died this morning at 5:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Tessier, 1401 Park avenue, following an illness that she contracted during the holidays. Mrs. Moser was engaged as matron for the children at the Odd Fellows home at York when she was taken ill following the Christmas exercises at the home and was brought to Fremont for treatment. For the last week her condition grew gradually worse and she failed to rally. A severe cold which developed into pneumonia was the cause of her death.

Mrs. Moser had been acting as matron at the home since last August and had been instrumental in inaugurating a number of changes of the plans for the handling of the children, which had met with the hearty approval of the officers and patrons of the institution. The organization of a boys' reading club and fitting a room to be used by the lads for their meetings was the direct result of her efforts. She took a deep interest in everything, pertaining to the welfare of the children that would tend to make them better boys and girls. She was a great favorite with the young people who loved her for her motherly ways.

Always taking the stand for the good and noble she was a foe to the drink evil and used her time and energy in teaching children the folly of indulging in strong drink in any form. She was an ardent worker in the W. C. T. U., where she acted as state organizer for a period last year. She was evangelistic superintendent of the local W. C. T. U. Mrs. Moser never failed to attend a meeting and take an active part in the work when her health would permit.

Mrs. Moser, who was Miss Mary Isabel Bishop, was born at Yellow Springs, O., June 8, 1850. At Ironton, Mo., February 28, 1870, she was married to J. Lewis Moser, a veteran of the Civil War. Mr. Moser died March 29, 1874, suffering from an illness contracted in the campaign. Mrs. John Tessier of Fremont, is the only surviving child. A sister, Mrs. Anna Smith, resides at St. Louis, and a brother, J. N. Bishop, at Ironton, Mo.

Short funeral services were held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Tessier Friday forenoon at 10:30 o'clock. The body was shipped to Ironton for burial.

The remains were received here Saturday and the funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church that day at 1 o'clock, conducted by Dr. James R. A. Vaughan. A number of her old friends followed her remains to Masonic Cemetery, where they were laid to rest by the side of her late husband. The many beautiful floral offerings from loving friends covered her grave. We of the older generation bear testimony to her worth and extend sincere sympathy to her kindred in their bereavement.

Fred Farr has had over 3,000 bushels of corn shipped in here from down near Caruthersville. He has sold out part of it and kept over half of it to feed his stock.

We are much pleased with the work here in our public school. Patrons here should take more interest in the work their children are doing, and should make it a rule to visit one day out of each week, if not more, and see the work on display in the building; and also to hear the pupils recite. The work and drawings we had the pleasure of viewing there last Friday afternoon certainly were good work and it shows that the girls and boys are getting the proper training. The Literary program was very interesting; one "Declaration" by Herbert Stevenson, the "Dedication of the Speech at the Battle of Gettysburg," was delivered with much enthusiasm. "Peace" by Martha Kelly was fine. The Debate by the two young ladies, Myrtle Lovelace and Martha Kelly, was very interesting to the visitors. In fact, the entire program was good, and should you visit our school on Friday afternoon you will always hear something interesting. So encourage our young people and visit the school.

J. A. Johnson, who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks, is still very low.

Dr. N. A. Farr has been ill the past week with a gripe. He has been unable to attend his practice and is still confined to his room.

Dr. Jones, from Brunot, also Dr. Toney, from Piedmont, were in town Sunday. Dr. Toney was called here to see John Love who has been very sick for some time with stomach trouble.

Prof. London left Sunday, with his wife and children, for Ardmore, Okla. Mrs. London is suffering from a nervous breakdown and has had to give up her music class at the college. Prof. London will return and still have charge of the college, but Mrs. London will remain in Oklahoma until she regains her health.

E. W. Graves and wife are in St. Louis this week.

The barn of Abb Daniels was burned, near town, one day last week. It contained about 100 bushels corn and 40 bushels was saved. The corn belonged to Tom Meyers, who was living on Mr. Daniels' farm. This is quite a loss to Mr. Meyers, as well as Mr. Daniels, who owned the barn. It is not known how the fire started. It had burned almost to the ground before help arrived, as the barn is nearly a mile from town.

Ed. Hickman and his mother, Mrs. Chas. Hickman, received a check for $2000 from the Modern Woodmen last week, in payment due on the policy carried by the deceased Walter Hickman, who died on November 20th at Vanduser, Mo. The M. W. A. are always prompt in payment of these policies; this now is about $5000 that has been paid out here for the deceased members of this lodge since it was Everything quiet around Annapolis and not much doing at present.

Miss Mathema Bolch went to St. Louis Sunday to visit her mother and brothers for a short time.

David Parris visited his sister near Grandin, Missouri, and reports a good time while gone. Saw lots of fine timber down in that country, not a stick amiss on the lands he was over.

E. H. Sawyer is down from Roodhouse, Ill., looking after his farming interests here, as well as timber, and at this time has some of the boys that have cut a tree or so on his lands badly scared up. He has set a price of five dollars a tree for that that has been cut on the inside of his enclosure. That is cheap, boys, if the tree is big enough.

Wm. Kitchell has a lame horse and cannot team it anymore till the horse gets well.

Tucker and Buckston have compromised their suit pending last Friday before Esquire Johnson at Des Arc over the interest due on the farm bought by Tucker near this town. The amount was near one hundred and ninety dollars. A pretty good pile of interest to be paid out on one farm.

Our beer shacks in town were skunked one day last week. Not a single case was sold.

Elmer Loyd went to St. Louis Sunday last on business, and it is unknown how long before he will return; not till Tuesday, anyway.

There will be a wedding soon out near Minnium, Missouri.
